

BIO

Rosalyn's dance training began in Calgary, Alberta at the age of 3. She began her training at McDonald Wilson Dance Academy where she completed several R.A.D. ballet and A.D.A.P.T jazz examinations, receiving 2 awards for outstanding talent. In 2007 she was the youngest member of the Dancer's in Training Company where she was able to train with industry professionals. At the age of 7, Rosalyn was able to perform with the youth company, Alberta Dance Theatre for Young People where she took part in 9 consecutive productions. She completed 3 years of dance training at Central Memorial High School in the Performing and Visual Arts program achieving the excellence in dance award upon completion. She began her training in the urban dance community by studying under the ILLFX Pre-Professional Training Program as a member of the Alpha crew. This fall she began training in Toronto and has since been part of the performance Dance Program at Ryerson University and the urban Hip Hop Dance Crew, having the opportunity to learn, choreograph and compete across Ontario.